ACTIVITY 01

Bake Cookies Together

Mix a simple batch of cookies with whatever you have at home. If a full bake is not practical today, decorate plain cookies or make a no-bake treat. Let each person add a shape or topping, then share them warm from the kitchen.

ACTIVITY 02

Write a Neighbor a Card

Fold a sheet of paper into a card. Draw a winter picture on the front and write a short, kind note inside. Walk it to a neighbor's door or mailbox together, or leave it where they will find it.

ACTIVITY 03

Living-Room Movie Night

Dim the lights, pile up pillows and blankets, and watch a movie the family already has or can borrow. Pause halfway for a snack. Leave phones in another room if you can, so the story stays the main event.

ACTIVITY 04

Cut Paper Snowflakes

Fold squares of plain paper and cut small shapes along the folds. Open them carefully and tape the snowflakes to a window. Make a few different sizes so the glass looks like a quiet snowfall.

ACTIVITY 05

Homemade Hot Cocoa Night

Warm milk or a dairy-free option on the stove. Stir in cocoa and a little sugar. Top with what you already have — a marshmallow, a pinch of cinnamon, or nothing at all — and sit together while it cools enough to sip.

ACTIVITY 06

Make Window Decorations

Cut stars, trees, and circles from paper and tape them to a window in a simple scene. Step outside, or just across the room, and look back to see how the shapes read from the other side. Adjust until you like the view.
